

WHY IS IT WHEN ...

The only day all month you
Come home late for dinner, your wife cooked your favorite meal.

Why is it when ...

You call someone for the first time to ask them out on a date, they answer the phone and you can't remember their name.

Why is it when...

you ask your children for help with the dishes they don't hear you, but just whisper dinner is ready and watch out, get out of the way.

Why is it when...

You ask your kids if they have finished their homework they say they didn't have any then their report cards come and they get Fs for not turning in their assignments.

Why is it when...

You take your car in for repairs because its making a strange noise it quits making the noise...

Why is it when...

The only day all year you forget your wallet you get stopped for a routine drivers license check.

Why is it ...

You can't remember your wife's birthday but you can remember your secretary's

Why is it when...

You go on a diet you always gain weight.

Why is it when...

The day the cafeteria serves your least favorite meal is the day you forget your lunch.

Why is it...

You can remember a dozen or more computer passwords and on screen id's, but you can't remember the combination to unlock your car door.

Why is it when...

People don't know what to say, they say it anyway.
